

PLANTS ATTRACT IMMIGRANTS

A Magyar Farmer Would Secure Farmers From Abroad.

FOR AN INLAND WATERWAY

Denials Made by Coal Agents That Norfolk Is Being Discriminated Against.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 20.—B. S. Lindsay, a prominent truck farmer of Norfolk county, will lay his plan of bringing immigrants to this section before the State Board of Agriculture. He has talked with leading members of Norfolk's commercial bodies and with others who are interested in bringing to this section a desirable class of immigrants, and he believes he will be able to point the way to accomplishing this end. Mr. Lindsay, who is himself a Magyar, said to-day:

"My suggestion is not to bring here immigrants who have settled as farmers elsewhere, as this would be difficult, if not impossible, but to secure for this section that class of immigrants born and raised on farms in the old countries and worked as farmers up to the time of their coming to this country, lured by agents away from their happy and peaceful surroundings to mines and factories in this country. There are many of these unfortunate foreigners, and under the most adverse conditions some of them have saved enough money to buy land and are looking for suitable land on which to settle."

William H. Lumsden, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has received a communication from Congressman John H. Small, of North Carolina, in reference to the movement in the interest of an inland waterway route from Norfolk to Beaufort Inlet. An invitation has also been received by the Chamber of Commerce from the Columbia (S. C.) Chamber of Commerce to send delegates to an interstate convention, which will be held in Columbia on December 28th. Representatives from the commercial organizations in all the principal cities between Baltimore and Jacksonville are expected to be present.

Captain Charles B. Nelson, wrecking agent of the Merritt and Chapman Company, arrived in Norfolk this morning on the Old Dominion steamship Monroe from New York. Captain Nelson fell sick while engaged in the work of floating the big ship Massachusetts, which was stranded near Kingston, Jamaica. He was sent to Nassau and later to New York, but as his illness became more serious it was thought best to bring him to his home.

Mr. Charles M. Barnett, of Casner, Curran & Bullitt, agents for Pocahontas steam coal, denied this morning a statement coming from Philadelphia to the effect that a share in the sale of Pocahontas coal here had resulted in the departure of a fleet of vessels for that port to secure cargoes.

J. W. Mordough, soliciting agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, denies the report that Harry Gibson, the business agent of the Norfolk union, who mysteriously disappeared nearly two weeks ago and has not been heard from since December 8th. The international union has just appointed "Jack" Brothers of this city, business agent for the local union to succeed him. As far as can be ascertained, all efforts to locate the missing man or learn his fate have been discontinued for the reason that all that could be done has been done, and Gibson's friends, as well as the police, have no material with which to work to enable them to find anything of a tangible nature.

Miss J. Madeline Higgs, for some time head nurse in the Sarah Leigh Hospital and latterly being engaged in private nursing in Norfolk, will shortly enter "All Saints' Home" in Baltimore, with the intention of becoming a member of the Episcopal sisterhood there established. She will leave for Baltimore on January 20th.

YOU DON'T

MONEY

It's a gilt-edge investment.

It pays a dividend every day to the economical housekeeper. A barrel of Dunlop Patent will make $16.00 worth of better bread than you can buy of the baker. Bread made from Dunlop Patent has a delicious flavor that is lacking in baker's bread. Ask Richmond housekeepers. Seven in ten use it. Why? Because it makes more bread, whiter bread and better bread than any other flour. All grocers sell it. Accept no substitute.

CLOSE OF SILVER JUBILEE

Jubilee High Mass Celebrated by Rev. Father J. T. O'Farrell. Twenty Priests Entertained.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, Va., December 20.—Mr. W. W. Gillett has resigned his position as bookkeeper at the silk mills of John N. Stearnes and Company, and will go to Richmond to live. Mr. Gillett has long been a highly valued worker in the church, educational field, and his departure is greatly regretted here. In Richmond he will join in the educational work maintained by St. Andrew's Church. Judge Walter A. Watson, of the Circuit Court of this district, came to Petersburg this evening. Judge Watson has been presiding at Dinwiddie Courthouse during the last two days. Father O'Farrell's silver jubilee concluded to-day, the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. St. Joseph's Church has been crowded at all of the three days' services held in honor of the occasion, and this morning a great congregation attended the jubilee. High mass, which was celebrated by Father O'Farrell, assisted by three priests who were comrades of his boyhood. Father J. B. O'Reilly, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, in Richmond, preached the sermon. St. Peter's mass, which was sung at Father O'Farrell's first celebration of mass, was rendered to-day. Twenty or more visiting priests, who came to honor Father O'Farrell, were entertained at dinner at the parish residence to-day. Among them were Fathers J. F. Donahue, of Baltimore; John Doherty, of Norfolk; J. J. McGuire, of Staunton; J. E. Collins, of Harper's Ferry; Charles E. Donahue, of Martinsburg; T. J. Brady and Felix Kniff of Portsmouth; E. M. Tierney, of Falls Church; J. W. Lynch, of Roanoke; and David Coleman, of Fredericksburg. A large number of Father O'Farrell's Richmond friends were present, including Fathers Bowler, Massie, Magri, McKee-

ry, McVerry, O'Reilly, Hannigan, Goetz and Dr. Murrey. Father T. J. Wilson, of Newport News, who arrived last night, has been warmly greeted by his many friends here. Father Wilson is a former rector of St. Joseph's Church. A reception and entertainment at the Catholic school this evening were the final celebration of the jubilee.

ELEGANT WEDDING.

Miss Lelia Johns McCormick the Bride of Dr. J. Charles Burks.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LEXINGTON, Va., Dec. 20.—The Presbyterian Church at Glasgow, Va., was the scene this evening at 6 o'clock of a beautiful nuptial event, when Miss Lelia Johns McCormick became the bride of Dr. J. Charles Burks, of Roanoke, Va. The church was tastefully decorated, and colored lights shed a soft glow over the interesting scene.

The bride was given away by Mr. Eugene Mathews, of Glasgow. Her sister, Mrs. Robert Sayre, of Glasgow, was maid of honor. The groom's best man was his brother, Dr. D. C. Burks, of Sherwood, Va. The officiating minister was the Rev. Dr. A. G. Beckner, of Glasgow. Mrs. J. P. Cleveland was organist and played the wedding march, "My Heart's Long Dream of You."

The bride was attended by Miss Bessie Glasgow, of Buena Vista, Va.; Miss Annie Burks, of Sherwood, Va.; Miss Ruth Woods, of Lynchburg, Va.; and Mrs. Eugene Mathews, of Glasgow. The ushers were Dr. E. U. Potter, Dr. Garrett, and Mr. Harry Burks, of Sherwood. The bride was tastefully gowned in crepe de chine and diamonds. Her veil was fastened with a diamond tiara belonging to her grandmother, and she carried the bride's roses. The groom wore a pink jansdown over tuxedo and carried pink carnations. The bride's attendants were dressed in matching over white tulle, and carried white carnations. The ushers were in full dress. The bride is an attractive and accomplished young lady, the daughter of Mrs. George Baxter McCormick, of Glasgow, and is deservedly popular. Mr. Burks is the son of the late Dr. J. C. Burks, of Roanoke, and is a popular and successful young practitioner of Roanoke. After wedding trip to New York and other Northern cities Dr. and Mrs. Burks will make their home in Roanoke, Va.

MISS FITZHUGH WEDS.

She Becomes the Bride of Mr. Hobart, of Alabama.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Dec. 20.—Miss Lucy Fitzhugh, daughter of Dr. J. C. Fitzhugh, formerly of "Sherwood Forest," Stafford county, now of Mount Springs, Ala., was married to Mr. Lewis A. Hobart, of Decatur, Ala. The marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride, and her two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Fitzhugh and Mrs. C. C. Carter, and Miss Fitzhugh, were matron and maid of honor, respectively. Rev. T. J. Board officiated. The bride is the daughter of Dr. J. C. Fitzhugh, Mrs. G. Daniel and Mrs. L. C. Mitchell, of this city. Mr. F. J. Talley and Miss Lelia Kilbuck, both of Loudoun county, were married a few days ago at Mineral, in that county. Rev. T. H. Campbell officiating.

Kennedy—Hall.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ROANOKE, Va., Dec. 20.—Miss Roxie N. Hall, the pretty young daughter of Conductor and Mrs. J. J. Hall, of the Norfolk and Western, was married to Mr. T. B. Kennedy, a popular machinist of the shops, were married to-night at the residence of the bride, Rev. J. T. Tolbert officiating. Mr. Kennedy was best man, and Miss Susie Kennedy, of Charlottesville, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. The couple left for Norfolk, and will go thence to Charlottesville, the former home of the groom.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROANOKE, Va., Dec. 20.—Miss Nettie L. Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ferguson, and Mr. Henry B. Kennedy, a prominent young farmer of Bedford county, were married to-day, Rev. C. M. Hawkins officiating.

Surprise Weddings.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, Va., Dec. 20.—The Christmas matrimonial market opened to-day with two surprise marriages. At Vanclose Station, just at sun-up, Wade Hampton Brumback and Miss Frances O'Neil, of Kentucky, and Dennis O'Neil, of Kentucky, were married by Rev. A. G. Link, who drove from Strasburg to perform the ceremony.

RICHMOND TO HAVE BIG LEAGUE BALL

This Is at Least Probable—Statement About Athletic Fields.

Regarding the statement that the University alumni of this city would construct an up-to-date athletic field for football games, which might probably be used by the Broad Street Park corporation for professional baseball, a representative of the Broad Street Park corporation to-day made the following statement: "We desire no differences with the University of Virginia alumni, but in justice to ourselves (the Broad Street Park corporation), we will state that we propose to arrange the necessary seating capacity in our park for the coming season. If the University alumni wish to make use of our park, the seating will be arranged to suit the football game, and we will charge only the nominal rental of $150. We have been running a park for many years, and we expect to continue to run one."

In conversation the same gentleman said that he was of the opinion that Richmond should not have two athletic fields, for neither could be run on a paying basis. "It is now practically settled that there will be base-ball here during the coming season, and there is every prospect that Richmond will be in one of the big leagues. The question apparently is whether the University alumni will rent the park to be constructed by Messrs. Bradley and Donati, or whether these last named gentlemen will rent from the University alumni. At any rate, whatever may be decided, the city will have a new and commodious athletic field, capable of accommodating the immense crowds that come to witness the Thanksgiving game."

A DEPOT QUESTION.

Stonewall Jackson Camp Elect Officers.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAUNTON, Va., December 20.—The Board of Trade to-night discussed the question of the removal of the Chesapeake and Ohio freight depot to the site of the old round house, about a quarter of a mile west of its present location, after the new passenger depot has been built. It was decided to postpone action until a later and larger meeting.

Stonewall Jackson Camp, Confederate Veterans, to-night re-elected all the old officers with the exception of the office of adjutant, to which Comrade Frank Strubling was elected. The camp passed a resolution upon the death of Major Thomas C. Rider. They also appointed a committee to invite John Sharp Williams to deliver an address on the birthdays of Generals Lee and Jackson.

NAN WAS TIRED AND YET HAPPY

$50,000, but acknowledged that Young was a very generous man, and gave her money whenever she asked. Miss Patterson said Young was fearful Mrs. Young would kill him, and possibly the actress also, and for that reason wished her to flee to Europe with him. Later she modified this under the battery of the prosecutor. The dramatic climax of to-day's court scene came with the pantomime enacted by Miss Patterson and the district attorney's messenger, showing the death scene in the cab.

Rehearsed Death Scene.

Seated side by side on a platform facing the court and the jury, the messenger, under the tutelage of the former show girl, grasped her wrists and they swayed back and forth as the prisoner said she and Caesar Young had done just before the shooting. With the calm reserve of one accustomed to play to thousands, Miss Patterson without a tremor went over the scene, and by her interpretation, tried to make it clear that Young had taken his own life. Throughout the two hours and forty minutes that Miss Patterson faced cross-examination to-day, few shadows of emotion crossed her pale face. She had evidently nerved herself for an ordeal, but when it was over, a reaction came, and she sobbed violently.

Arising from the chair she bowed to Judge Davis and the Earl of Suffolk, who sat beside him and to the jurors. Then gathering up her skirts, she ran down to her aged father, who sat beside her counsel's table and buried her face on his shoulder. He kissed her affectionately, and said softly: "You did splendidly, little girl."

This scene closed the evidence for the defense.

Mrs. Young in Rebuttal.

Mr. Rand, a little later called Mrs. Young, the widow of Caesar Young in rebuttal. In her testimony, she said she had purchased the ticket for the trip abroad for herself, and husband, and that she had done so at the instigation of Mr. Young, and not of her own volition as testified by Miss Patterson.

When both sides rested, Judge Davis, said he wished the case to go to the jury to-morrow, and after a conference between opposing counsel, it was agreed that the closing speeches should be limited to three hours each. Mr. Levy will speak in the morning and Mr. Rand in the afternoon. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon Judge Davis will deliver his charge, and then the fate of the former show girl will rest in the hands of the jury.

Mr. Rand began the cross-examination with the question: "Are you an actress?" "I am," replied the defendant. "Are you a wife?" "I am not."

Meeting With Young.

Then the story of her meeting with Caesar Young in July, 1903, while on a train bound for California with a theatrical company, was retold. "Did Mr. Young give you money when you came back to-day?" "Yes," "How much did he give you?" "I think $500."

"Just for two weeks?" "Yes."

By long series of questions Mr. Rand led up to the time when she came back to New York last May. Young continued to "fill" up her story, and they frequently talked of plans for the future. "Young told you that you were only going to pretend to go away?" "Yes."

"And you had no intention of going away?" "Yes."

"You were only to pretend to do so as to deceive Young's friends?" "Yes."

"You knew all this time that Young was a married man?" "I did not know."

"How much money did Young give you altogether?" "I could not tell. He always gave me money when I wanted it."

"Did he give you as much as $40,000 or $50,000?" "I cannot say how much."

"He was a most generous man, wasn't he?" "Yes."

"At the race track Young told you that they had trapped him?" "Yes."

"What did he mean by trapped?" "Did Mr. Young have bought tickets for him to go away, and he could not get out of it?"

Afraid Wife Would Kill.

"Did he speak of his wife's happiness as anything why he had to go abroad?" "Yes, he had been very unhappy before."

"And Young seemed glad to go?" "He spoke of his wife as being happy to go."

"Did Young ever say his wife might be a murderer?" "Yes."

"What did he say?" "He said he was afraid Mrs. Young would kill him or kill me."

"This was the day before he died?" "Yes."
